5 SEC. 101. FINDINGS.

6 Section 101 of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency
 7 Prevention Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5601) is amended to 8 read as follows:

9 “FINDINGS

10 “SEC. 101. (a) The Congress finds the following:

11 “(1) There has been a dramatic increase in ju-
 12 venile delinquency, particularly violent crime com-
 13 mitted by juveniles. Weapons offenses and homicides
 14 are 2 of the fastest growing crimes committed by ju-
 15 veniles. More than ½ of juvenile victims are killed
 16 with a firearm. Approximately ⅕ of the individuals 17 arrested for committing violent crime are less than 18 18 years of age. The increase in both the number of 19 youth below the age of 15 and females arrested for 20 violent crime is cause for concern.

1           “(2) This problem should be addressed through 2           a 2-track common sense approach that addresses the 3           needs of individual juveniles and society at large by 4           promoting—

5                   “(A) quality prevention programs that—

6                           “(i) work with juveniles, their fami-
7                           lies, local public agencies, and community-
8                           based organizations, and take into consid-
9                           eration such factors as whether or not 10                          juveniles have been the victims of family
11                          violence (including child abuse and ne-12                          glect); and

13                           “(ii) are designed to reduce risks and 14                          develop competencies in at-risk juveniles 15                          that will prevent, and reduce the rate of, 16                          violent delinquent behavior; and

17                          “(B) programs that assist in holding juve-
18                          niles accountable for their actions, including a 19                          system of graduated sanctions to respond to 20                          each delinquent act, requiring juveniles to make 21                          restitution, or perform community service, for 22                          the damage caused by their delinquent acts, 23                          and methods for increasing victim satisfaction
24                          with respect to the penalties imposed on juve-
25                          niles for their acts.

1       “(b) Congress must act now to reform this program
2 by focusing on juvenile delinquency prevention programs,
3 as well as programs that hold juveniles accountable for 4 their acts. Without true reform, the criminal justice sys-
5 tem will not be able to overcome the challenges it will face
6 in the coming years when the number of juveniles is ex-
7 pected to increase by 30 percent.”.

8 SEC. 102. PURPOSE.

9       Section 102 of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency

12                               “PURPOSES

16 prevent juvenile involvement in delinquent behavior;

17               “(2) to assist State and local governments in 18 promoting public safety by encouraging account-
19 ability for acts of juvenile delinquency; and

20               “(3) to assist State and local governments in 21 addressing juvenile crime through the provision of 22 technical assistance, research, training, evaluation,
